as Accident Happens

OVER SOUNDS HORN AND GIRL STOPS FOR MOMENT

Crushed by Fender and Thrown Against the Curb

Raymond Ziegelmayer, driver of a Ford sedan which struck Sophie Hoff on Wednesday night, told a police reporter Friday morning that the accident which resulted in the death of the girl was unavoidable. In an interview Friday Ziegelmayer said he struck the girl while attempting to turn from Main to Sixth west. With his sight handicapped because of the rain on the windshield, Ziegelmayer declared that he sounded his horn when he noticed the figure of a girl moving from the curb across the street. According to his report the girl hesitated for a moment at the sound of the horn while also slowing down his car. "Such thinking that the other would hit the girl and the driver of the car simultaneously moved forward hesitating for a moment. The car right toward the curb against the girl, throwing her back against the curb, according to Ziegelmayer's statement. Stopping the car within a few feet, Ziegelmayer, together with Helen Erickson, occupant of the car at the time of the accident, found the girl in a kneeling position at the curb when they came to her rescue. The boys immediately rushed Miss Hoff to the residence in North Third street and summoned the parents of the girl. They later accompanied her to the St. Francis hospital where she died about seven hours after the accident.

EXPECT RELEASE OF YANKS CONVICTED BY GERMAN COURT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The release of Carl F. Neu and Franz Zinz, American detectives sent to jail in Germany as a result of their efforts to capture Grover C. Bergdall, American draft evader, is expected by the war department. Officials indicated that Bergdall had been in communication with German authorities on the subject and that favorable action on the request for the release of the men was to be expected.

ANNOUNCEMENT ON RUSSIAN QUESTION IS EXPECTED TODAY

WASHINGTON.—Some statement with regard to the Russian question may be made late Friday either at the White House or the state department. It is understood that this was agreed upon at the regular Friday cabinet meeting at which the appeal of the soviet government for resumption of trade relations between the United States and Russia was discussed at length.

FOWLER BRANDS BENTLEY TALE AS FALSEHOOD

Calls Story He Would Quit if Chief Webber is "Fired" a Lie

ATTENTION CALLED TO POLICE DEPARTMENT'S LABOR STAND

Arrest of Union Officer for Picketing Recited

THE LA CROSSE majority campaign opened with a bang this morning when Frank H. Fowler, non-partisan candidate for mayor, addressed an open letter to Mayor Arthur A. Bentley demanding that he produce proof of his assertion, made at a recent meeting in Trades and Labor Council hall, that a "Fowler worker" had told Bentley that Fowler would withdraw providing Bentley would "fire" Police Chief John B. Webber. Fowler minced no words in dealing with Bentley. "So far as I am concerned, your reported assertion is a lie," he wrote.

No Wish to Enter Into Mud-
Slinging Fight, He Wants
Neighborhood Campaign

That Mayor Bentley will in a few days make public his platform, or "declaration of purpose," in his fight for re-election was the executive's statement on Friday to a reporter in search of campaign news. The said search of publication at which he had nothing to say.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF MISSING AERONAUTS GONE SINCE TUESDAY

PENSACOLA, Fla.—Naval authorities expressed the belief Friday that the only hope for the safety of Chief Quartermaster George K. Wilkinson, and four student pilots, missing from the naval air station here since they took the air in a free balloon Tuesday night, is that some vessel in the Gulf of Mexico may have rescued them. In the balloon, business Commander Wilkinson, were Russell E. Elend, Belleville, Ill.; Edward L. Kershaw, Payne, La.; J. O. Elmer, Lebanon, N. Y.; and W. P. Trefrey, Salem, Mass.

COMMUNISTS DRIVEN FROM EISLEBEN, CENTER OF THE OUTBREAK, REPORTS LONDON

Uprising "Spurious" and was Incited by Russian Propagandists, Declares Paris; Labor not Involved in the Movement

BERLIN.—(By the Associated Press.)—Belief was expressed in government circles Friday that unless the communists succeed in tying up mid-Germany's industrial areas, in a general strike, the government will be able to cope with the rioting prevailing in Eisleben, Mansfeld, Hettstedt and Leuna.

LONDON.—Although the situation arising from the communist outbreak in Germany is still dangerous, the communists are being overcome by the forces of law and order, according to reports from the different centers, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin Friday.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE, FORMER LA CROSSE MAN KILLS SELF

Thomas Chester Buck Carried Not Only Pistol But Razor
and Poison

After failing to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who, it is said, was on the point of suing for a divorce, and having also failed to end his life by drinking carbolic acid, Thomas Buck, 42 years old, formerly of North La Crosse, Wednesday night armed himself with two bottles of poison, a razor and a gun, made an attack on the home of his mother-in-law at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., where his wife had taken refuge, opened fire on the family, probably fatally wounding his wife, Olive, 24 years old, and then placed the gun to his mouth and killed himself.

The Bucks had been living in Minneapolis. Some time ago, it is related, Mr. Buck circulated a story naming a Minneapolis man and his wife in a triangle affair. This, it is alleged, caused the breach, and Mrs. Buck went to Wisconsin Rapids to live with her parents.

FACTORY REOPENS

DETROIT, Mich.—Resumption of full time operations effective March 28 was announced Friday by the Hudson Motor Car company.

SING "SEVEN LAST WORDS" TONIGHT AT METHODIST CHURCH

Sacred Concert Will be Climax of Good Friday Services; Give Dubois Masterpiece

A fitting climax to the Good Friday services will be held in the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock this evening.

The chorus choir of that church will sing Theodore Dubois' great cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ." There is no music written for this occasion which can rival this composition of the gifted Frenchman who has bound all the passions, indignation and agony of the great sacrifice into the music of this wonderful composition.

It has been sung at two former Good Friday services to audiences that filled the auditorium and is well worthy the commendation it has received. This is the third of the series of five monthly sacred concert given by the choir and those who have heard the "Holy City" will welcome the opportunity to hear this number.

No Respector of Persons
Law enforcement is no respecter of persons, as a young woman stenographer in the office of Charles J. Orblison, federal prohibition director, can testify.

This young woman ordered some wine of pepsin from her druggist. The druggist considered the order and her record on previous orders. "Young woman," he said, "I cannot sell you any wine of pepsin. You are using too much. We are under strict orders from the prohibition director to watch carefully our sales on wine of pepsin."—Indianapolis News.

The Height of Worry
Thomas—Jones is a great man to worry over nothing, isn't he?
Lotts—Yes, why, if he took an ocean voyage he would worry for fear the sea would dry up and leave him stranded in the mid.

Sea anemones have been known to travel forty-eight inches in a day.

Cardinal Gibbons

NOT only the church of which Cardinal Gibbons was the American leader is the poorer for his death. All patriotic, clear-minded citizens must also share in the sense of loss, whatever their creed. For Cardinal Gibbons was not only a great churchman, he was also a great American, a great liberal, a great patriot.

Few religious leaders have exercised in the secular affairs of this country the great influence that was Cardinal Gibbons'. He had this outstanding eminence because his influence was always wisely and patriotically directed. Member of an ancient organization in which the principle of authority and established order is strong, he realized and earnestly preached the entire compatibility of this principle with the fullest individual freedom and personal dignity, whether in public or private matters. Thus Cardinal Gibbons became in the United States a great leader of ordered democracy, and his views and advice upon matters of moment to the nation were eagerly sought and respectfully heard by statesmen and public alike.

The nation has lost a great apostle of the democratic gospel, as well as a deservedly eminent exemplar of the Christian religion. His unique position in the esteem of his fellow-countrymen will not speedily be filled.

The Reds Answer

WHILE the reparations commission threatens Germany with new penalties—unspecified and not unlikely unknown to the commission when the threat was made—the fire of communist revolution is kindling in central Germany. "Financed by soviet gold" the dispatches rumor, and perhaps Lenin and Trotsky have their finger in the pie somewhere. But not soviet gold alone is rousing the German workers to the insanity of bolshevik revolt—allied "firmness" is also playing its part. Materialist policies which sent armies into the industrial Ruhr cities, which sickened and punished when German policemen neglected salutes to French officers, are reaping their necessary harvest. The allied governments can bully and coerce the German government by notes and perhaps by acts of force, but what will it avail them if the pressure simply explodes the feeble and distraught republican regime? Between the allies, armed and vengeful, and its people, helpless but bitter, the German government is powerless. It is small wonder that the reds have seen the opportunity of sweeping it away on the current of public anger over its puniness in the crisis, and are vigorously attempting to advantage themselves of the opening. Which will the allies prefer—to abate something of their claims that the German republic may save its face and remain in power, or to press them relentlessly, as it has done in the last few weeks, and shove the republic over the precipice to the rocks of bolshevism? Thursday's cables indicate that they must decide between these alternatives, and without much delay.

Where is the Happy Medium?

It is contended that two principles are warring in the child labor movement. On the one side is the necessity of safeguarding the youth of the land against employment that saps physical vitality and deprives the child of a fair chance for an education. We have laws that aim to satisfy these demands. On the other hand, there is the need of encouraging industry and thrift in the young. Perhaps the country was never more keenly aware of a necessity than it is of this one, for we have come upon times in which work is not held always in high esteem, and the tendency of youth is toward pleasure and spending, rather than in the direction of work and saving. And so we have thrift and industry weeks, and aim in various ways to swing back to the idea that labor is honorable and necessary, and the lot of all men and women who count in the world's affairs.

Administration of the child labor laws is bound to be more or less a technical process. The child under the legal age must not work in the "job" sense, and older children must have their permits to work. But the iron-clad application of the rule may be doing as much harm in one case as it does good in another.

Recently, in a public school, a teacher directed that all the pupils having jobs rise to their feet. Several got up, among them some too young to receive permits.

"This must be stopped!" exclaimed the teacher, and ordered that all secure their permits, or give up their employment.

Among them, it is said, was an under-aged boy who had a neighborhood carrying job. He took a small article each evening a distance of two blocks, and received a nickel each day for the service. His people did not need the money, but his father encouraged him in his work as an incentive to industry and thrift. He was eager to keep it up, and so sought a legal permit to do so, but this was denied him. Other cases are cited, some in which the pay of the child was contributing to its education. Doubtless all of them were properly prohibited from continuing their employment under the letter of the law, but there is a genuine question as to the wisdom of this inflexible policy.

No doubt officials constantly find parents and employers attempting to evade the child labor laws, and hence become skeptical. Yet one wonders whether there should not be a twilight zone in which the official shall have discretionary authority. How long will it be, for instance, before the boy who can no longer carry his daily package will find his way to a pool room? Boys will spend their spare time, one way or another. Those who have reasonable daily duties do not lag behind the pool-room and movie youngsters in school. Both the work and the discipline, if not overdone, are good for them. Earning small sums makes for judgment and thrift, as well as for industry.

Of course the instances cited are hearsay, and there may be other sides to the stories. But they serve to raise a most important question. Administration of child labor laws in a manner to prevent the inculcation of industry, thrift and discipline under parental supervision can not fail to make for shiftlessness and wasteful habits. These are good things to ponder.

President Harding says there is no place in federal service for "the mere officeholder." Here's a broom, Warren.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

At a meeting of the La Crosse Motorboat club held at Elks' hall last night, the thirty members present subscribed $500 towards the building of a hydroplane speed boat to be entered in the races of the M. V. P. B. A. to be held at Dubuque in July. At least $5,000 will be needed to build a motor boat of sufficient size to stand a chance of winning honors for La Crosse.

Still another of the famous steamboat lines on the Upper Mississippi which for forty years was known in every hamlet and city along the great stream, has passed from activity this year. Samuel R. Van Sant sold his last steamer, the North Star, at Clinton, Iowa, Wednesday.

That three bills now before the state legislature aim to take license money from the city and give it to the county to be used in caring for the poor is a matter that is engaging the attention of La Crosse business men today. This city collects approximately $20,000 annually in license fees and it is obliged to give this to the county an increase of one and one-half mills in the tax rate would be necessary. The Manufacturers and Jobbers' club has called a meeting to decide on sending a delegation to represent La Crosse at the hearing on the bill which takes place tomorrow afternoon.

CHIEF John Whiteboy and his squaw left for Chicago today to recover his daughter, Wanpa, who eloped with Indian John Waukon. Secretary Jones of the La Crosse Associated Charities has written to John Waukon, who it is thought took the girl to Chicago to join a show company, advising for his own good to give up the girl quietly.

Owing to the bursting of the Sparta dam the entire valley of the La Crosse river is overflowed and that portion of North La Crosse which suffered from the flood last June is inundated to so great an extent that residences of the entire quarter are standing in three or four feet of water. The Northwest road bed is washed completely away. The Green Bay service into this city is out of an account of a washout.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. John Dalton of Oshkosh, was nominated for mayor by the republicans and was immediately endorsed by the democrats so he will have a walkaway at the election.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young have gone to Galesville to live.

Mr. Frank Weston, for two years in the office of Dr. Frank Powell, has left to attend Rush Medical college in Chicago.

Last night the ice on the Minnesota side of the river moved out and early this morning Alderman John Deiter, of the ferry committee, was on hand with a force of men and under his direction the ice still remaining near the landing at the ferry bridge was cut away. The ferry boat was launched from its winter quarters and made its first trip of the season this afternoon.

A Man For the Ages

BY
Irving Bacheller

(Copyright 1919 by Irving Bacheller)

In April Abe wrote another address to the voters announcing that he was again a candidate for a seat in the legislature. Late that month Harry walked with him to Dappsville where a crowd had assembled to attend a public sale. When the auctioneer had finished Abe made his first stump speech. A drunken man tried to divert attention to himself by sundry interruptions. Harry asked him to be quiet, whereupon the ruffian and a friend pitched upon the boy and began to handle him roughly. Abe jumped down, rushed into the crowd, seized the chief offender and swung him off his feet, throwing him into the air. He hit the ground in a heap, some four yards from where Abe stood. The latter resumed his place and went on with his speech. The crowd cheered him and there was no further disturbance at that meeting. The speech was a modest, straightforward declaration of his principles. When he was leaving several voices called for a story. Abe raised a great laugh with a humorous anecdote in which he imitated the dialect and manners of a Kentucky backwoodsman. They kept him on the auctioneer's block for half an hour telling the wise and curious folk tales of which he knew so many. He had won the crowd by his principles, his humor and good nature as well as by the brave and decisive exhibition of his great strength.

Abe and Harry went to a number of settlements in the county with a like result, save that no more violence was needed. At one place there were men in the crowd who knew Harry's record in the war. They called on him for a speech. He spoke on the need of the means of transportation in Sangamon county with such insight and dignity and convincing candor that both Abe and the audience hailed him as a coming man. Abe and he were often seen together those days.

In New Salem they were called the disappointed lovers. It was known there that Abe was a very fond of Ann Rutledge although he had not, as yet, openly confessed to any one—not even to Ann—there being no show of hope for him. Ann was deeply in love with John McNeil, the genial, handsome and successful young Irishman. The affair had reached the stage of frankness, of an open discussion of plans of fond affection expressing itself in caresses quite indifferent to ridicule. For Ann it had been like warm sunlight on the growing rose. She was nearer in dress, lovelier in form and color, more graceful in movement and sweeter voiced than ever she had been. It is the old way that nature has of preparing the young to come out upon the stage of real life and to act in its moving scenes. Abe manfully gave them his best wishes and when he spoke of Ann it was done very tenderly. The look of sadness, which all had noted in his moments of abstraction, deepened and often covered his face with its veil. That is another way nature has of preparing the young. For these the roses have fallen and only the thorns remain. They are not lured; they seem to be driven to their tasks, but for all, soon or late, her method changes.

On a beautiful morning of June, 1834, John McNeil left the village. Abe Lincoln and Harry and Samson and Sarah and Jack Kelsa and his wife stood with the ladies in the doorway of the tavern when he rode away. He was going back to his home in the far West to return in the autumn and make Ann his bride. The girl wept as if her heart would break when he turned far down the road and waved his hand to her.

"Oh, my pretty lass! Do you not hear the birds singing in the meadows?" said Jack Kelsa. "Think of the happiness all around you and of the greater happiness that is coming when he returns. Shame on you!" "I'm afraid he'll never come back," Ann sobbed.

"Nonsense! Don't get a maggot in your brain and let the crows go walking over your face. Come, we'll take a ride in the meadows and if I don't bring you back laughing you may call me no prophet."

So the event passed. Harry traveled about with Abe a good deal that summer, "electioneering," as they called it, from farm to farm. Samson and Sarah regarded the association as a good thing for the boy who had a taste for politics. Abe used to go into the fields, with the men whose favor he sought, and bend his long back over a scythe or a mow and race them playfully a mile and race them cutting a wide swath than any other man was out holding the lead. At the end of his swath and breath at the end of his swath and needed a few minutes for recuperation. That gave Abe a chance for his statement of the county's needs and his plan of satisfying them. He had made and talked with a majority of the voters before the campaign ended in his election in August. Those trials of education to the candidate and the voters.

At odd times that summer he had been surveying a new road with Harry Needles for his helper. In September they resumed their work upon it in the vicinity of New Salem and Abe began to carry the letters in his hat again. Every day Ann was looking for him as he came by in the dim light of the early morning on his way to work. "Anything for me?" she would ask. "No mail in since I saw you, Ann," was the usual answer. "I'm afraid not, here you take these letters," and look through 'em and make sure. Ann would take them in her hands, trembling with eagerness and run them down to the candlelight, and look them over. Always she came back with the

SELF CONFIDENCE IS THE BACK-BONE OF A SALESMAN'S SUCCESS

"What a Boy Can Become!"
Recently a young man who had taken a job as salesman for a large western concern, and failed, privately lined up on paper a few reasons for his failure.

"First," he wrote, "I lack self-confidence. They tell me that it's the back-bone of a salesman's success. I get cold feet when it comes to expressing my own opinions. I have developed the habit of staying out late at night. Mornings when I wake up, I am 'dopey' and 'lack go.' I want to sleep an hour or so longer before crawling out. I have failed to watch my pep."

"While on the road I became too easily satisfied. A sale first thing in the morning would mean I wouldn't feel like working all the rest of the day. I seem to want to slow up on the job."

There is another salesman, employed by the same concern, who, if his superior's word means anything, is bound for an executive position.

Besides being confident in himself, having good, regular habits, and being a stick-to-it worker, he has an agreeable personality. He isn't good looking, but he is neat, and his cheerful way wins you the minute you shake hands with him. He has a brain and uses it. He has worked up an original line of sales talk that convinces his prospects. He studies his work and plans to never allow a day pass without learning something about people.

He sells washing machines. He believes in them. He knows they are well worth the money, and can convince others that they are. Enthusiasm is his middle name. He "watches his pep," and his liveliness is catching.

Schools for training in salesmanship—it is a line of work open to young ladies as well as young men—are located all over the country, and opportunities for getting a position are on every hand. Progressive business men are watching for people who can bring in more business.

Even in your neighborhood there is a chance to start learning something about salesmanship. One of the most successful salesmen in the country began his career by selling newspapers on a street corner.

STORIES OF FAMOUS SONGS

"Dixie"
One of the conditions under which Daniel D. Emmett had been engaged as a part of the celebrated "Bryant's Minstrels", then playing in Bryant's Hall, New York City, was that he would write a new "walk-around" or "hooray" for the show, whenever required to do so.

He was walking home one Saturday night after the show when he was overtaken by Jerry Bryant. "Can you fix up a new 'hooray' for rehearsal next Monday?" asked Bryant.

Mr. Emmett replied that it was short notice, but he'd do his best. So all the next day, Sunday, he worked, and on Monday, promptly at rehearsal time, he was ready with the new "walk-around"—our now famous song, "Dixie."

"Dixie", which was originally called "Dixie Land", became a favorite immediately. It was dedicated as a Southern war song, and this, perhaps, is the reason many believe it to be of Southern origin. Records, however, fail to show that Mr. Emmett ever lived in the South. He was born in Mount Vernon, Ohio, on October 29, 1815, and died in 1904.

THE FAMILY ALBUM

Festival of New Life

(By Dr. William E. Barton)
No man, however skeptical or obstinate, can wholly escape the spirit of Easter. He may hold his peace, but very stones cry out. The cold, dead earth wakes to new life, and the spirit of the resurrection is in every blade of grass and every song of bird.

Let us not trouble ourselves too carefully concerning the precise form of the wonder that occurred 1900 years ago. The question is not, Did Jesus rise? but, Is Jesus living? The latter question is easier for us, and requires no very doubtful balancing of evidence. On that first Easter the world's hope rose from the dead. The hopes of the disciples lay in a tomb, and a great stone was at the door. For 1900 years that stone has been removed, and an angel has been sitting upon it, proclaiming to men that the Lord of life lives.

It is not simply the dogma of a sect; it is part and parcel of the birthright of humanity—the hope that springs anew at Easter. Robert G. Ingersoll stood at his brother's grave, and asked the centuries' old question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" He had to answer, "Reason says, Perhaps; and Love whispers, Yes."

Let no man scoff at the faith of the great apostle of doubt for that answer. At such a time there is a little bundle of letters very slowly as if her disappointment were a heavy burden.

"There'll be one next mail if I have to write it myself," Abe said one morning as he went on. To Harry Needles who was with him that morning he said: "I wonder why that fellow don't write to Ann. I couldn't believe that he has been fooling her, but now I don't know what to think of him. Every day I have to deliver a blow that makes her a little paler and thinner. It hurts me like smashing a finger nail. I wonder what has happened to the fellow."

The mail stage was late that evening. As it had not come at 9 Mr. Hill went home and left Abe in the store to wait for his mail. The stage arrived a few minutes later. It came as usual in a cloud of dust and a thunder of wheels and hoofs mingled with the crack of the lash, the driver saving his horses for this little display of pride and pomp on arriving at a village. Abe examined the little bundle of letters and newspapers which the driver had left with him. Then he took a paper and sat down to read in the firelight. While he was thus engaged the door opened softly and Ann Rutledge entered. The postmaster was not aware of her presence until she touched his arm.

"Please give me a letter," she said. "Sit down, Ann," said he, very gently, as he placed a chair in the fire-glow.

She took it, turning toward him with a look of fear and hope. Then he added: "I'm sorry but the truth is it didn't come."

"Don't—don't tell me that again,"

Tommy has a little friend who acts as chauffeur when they go for a ride in his toy car. One day Tommy went into his uncle's home, to get warm leaving Billy on the curb as usual. It was a cold day and the uncle remonstrated, telling him to go out and bring him in. "Oh, him's all right," replied Tommy. "He will have to get used to it or he won't get his twenty cents a week."

Monte Carlo dealers have bought sizable bills of goods in the states and ordered them shipped to McAllen. From there they could easily be smuggled across the Rio Grande, hauled overland to Reynosa and loaded on the train for Monterrey.

The direct route from the states to Monterrey is through Laredo. There is no port of entry nearer to McAllen than Matamoros, where thousands of quarts of liquor are smuggled over the line from Mexico by similar methods.

MEXICAN SMUGGLING

System Leads Oregon to Shake Up Officials
By C. H. NEWELL
MEXICO CITY.—Smugglers along the border are making hundreds of thousands of dollars for themselves and merchants in northern Mexico.

Grafting officials in customs houses are stealing fortunes through connivance with these same northern Mexican merchants.

President Oregon already is striking blows at these smuggler-grafters by ordering changes in customs house personnel.

Many wholesale merchants here who have exclusive agencies for American and European made goods, cannot sell their merchandise in Monterrey, Torreon, Chihuahua, Nuevo Laredo, Matamoros, Juarez and Sonora.

Some merchants in those towns buy the same article in the states and sell it on this side of the border for less than cost plus the duty. The goods are smuggled or slipped through customs houses by payment of bribes.

Others outside such graft rings have to fall back on the smugglers who have long infested both sides of the Rio Grande.

McAllen, Texas, is almost opposite Reynosa, Tamaulipas. Both towns are up the Rio Grande about 60 miles above Brownsville. Reynosa is on the railroad that runs from Matamoros to Monterrey, the Pittsburg of Mexico. But it is not on the river.

Goods Diverted
Monterrey dealers have bought sizable bills of goods in the states and ordered them shipped to McAllen.

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—A difficult problem for the industrial commission has been the question of the location of the new state building. agency with hope of success. It is advised that the first vaccination should be performed when a child is between one and two years of age, and be repeated just before the child begins school for the first time. Thereafter it is recommended to revaccinate when smallpox is widely prevalent in a community. In the United States army during the great war, health officials point to the vaccination of five million men and women without a single death or serious result.

The state banks, mutual savings banks and trust companies of Wisconsin are in a very sound condition. This is shown clearly by the returns filed with the commissioner of banking on February 21. There are 844 of the institutions named, and while they do not show the high degree of prosperity shown in the past few years, yet in all respects conditions are very favorable.

The State Bar association has prepared a bill and placed it in the hands of the senate judiciary committee providing for the retirement of circuit judges at the age of 75. At the same time there will be introduced a joint resolution to amend the constitution so as to require the retirement of supreme court justices also at the age of 75. The bill fixing the age limit for circuit judges provides also that where a judge has served continuously for twenty-five years, and retires at 75 he shall receive an annuity equal to half the salary paid him while serving; if he has served but eighteen years and attained the age of 65 and is incapacitated he will thereafter be entitled to an annuity equal to 40 per cent of his former salary; any judge who has served ten years and retires because incapacitated at the age of 55 shall receive an annuity equal to 20 per cent of his previous salary.

W. P. Jones, the fruit and vegetable expert of the state division markets, says farmers who have stocks of potatoes on hand that they would better sell. The prices are very low, 30 to 40 cents a bushel, yet even these prices are more profitable than the prices for potatoes. There is no security in the potato market. It is better to sell now than to turn the stocks into money than to hold longer.

The senate and Governor Blaine again locked horns last week on a veto message. The governor sent in a message on Tuesday refusing to approve Senator Lange's bill to create a municipal court for Eau Claire county. When the message was read Senator Lange objected that the bill had already become a law through the failure of the governor to return it within the six days allowed. After a sharp debate the bill was re-referred to the judiciary committee, which asked the attorney general for an opinion. The attorney general held that the bill had already become a law.

Senator Nye's junior college proposition to relieve the pressure on the university was given a hearing before the senate committee on education and public welfare. The proposition is being supported by the state board of education which originated the idea to prevent the normal schools from being turned into a feeder for the university. The state department of public instruction favors the use of the normal school in preference to the expense and confusion of another and separate system of college work.

Prof. C. L. Norgard, head of the state department of agriculture in an address delivered in La Crosse county last week, strongly urged the farmers to organize co-operative bodies for marketing their products. He pointed out the fallacy of expecting the state to do the marketing of farm products. The state, through the division of markets, he said, could aid greatly by acting as a sort of supreme referee, but it was up to the farmers themselves to work together wisely and effectively.

The gross income of Wisconsin farmers is estimated by Joseph A. Becker, joint crop statistician of a state department of agriculture, approximately $420,000,000 in 1920 as compared with $502,000,000 in 1919, $416,000,000 in 1918, and $424,000,000 in 1917, and $150,000,000 in 1909. The gross income in comparison with 1909 is seen to be 276 per cent in 1920, 316 per cent in 1919, 290 per cent in 1918 and 216 per cent in 1917. The 1920 farm income represents a gross income per farm for each of the 136,000 farms of the state of $2,992, compared to $900 per farm in 1909. The gross income includes total value of livestock products plus the value of cash crops, plus the value of the marketable surplus of food crops.

A "KICK" WITHOUT ALCOHOL

Somewhere in the stories of Robert Louis Stevenson there is a reference to a drink of the South Sea Islands which has no alcohol in its composition but which has a real kick. A New York promoter acting on the suggestion, has visited the place, obtained the recipe, and it is said, prepared to put it on the market in some form in this country to take the place of alcoholic beverages. In the South Sea Islands the beverage is known by several names, kava-kava seeming to be the favorite, and there boys and girls are employed to chew the root after which it is allowed to undergo a chemical change by standing in jars before it is consumed. For consumption in this country the necessary chemical change will be secured in a different manner.

WHEN DID DISEASE COMMENCE

As early as 4,000 B. C. says the Journal of the American Medical Association, a sort of medical knowledge was already well established, so that the existence of disease must have been recognized ages earlier. The discovery of the beginning of the history of medicine does not reveal the beginnings of disease on the earth. Germs are said to be among the oldest inhabitants of the earth. One investigation defends the thesis, however, that disease did not exist with most ancient bacteria. They were harmless, as are most of the present day bacteria. According to this paleontologist, disease did not become especially active until the present age of the earth had been attained by nearly three-quarters of its duration.

HUBER AMENDMENT KILLED IN BADGER SENATE THURSDAY

Initiative and Referendum Measure Balked by Tie Vote

MARKS FIRST REAL DEFEAT FOR THE ADMINISTRATION

Senator Tim Burke Leads Attack on the Proposed Law

MADISON.—The initiative and referendum constitutional amendment sponsored by Senator Henry Huber as an administration measure was defeated in the senate Thursday by a vote of 15 to 13. A total of 17 a majority of the senate was necessary.

Under the rules the joint resolution was killed. The roll call was:

For the measure: Senators Anderson, Arnold, Meyer, Bilgrien, Conant, Deamhardt, Hirsch, Huber, Kleist, Moen, Nye, Olson, Ridgway, Severson, Staudenmayer—15.

Against the measure: Senators Bird, Buck, Burke, Clark, Czerwinski, Jennings, Lango, Morris, Mulberger, Peterson, Roehrig, Skogmo, Smith, Titus, Weeden—13.

The taking of the final vote followed a lengthy debate. A preliminary skirmish clearly indicated defeat for the bill when it was proposed to refer the measure to the senate judiciary committee for further consideration and amendment.

Both administration and majority forces played a strategic game. The administration demanded the issue be met squarely, while opposing forces wanted to hold proceedings and lay the matter over.

Opened For Debate

This latter course failed by one vote the motion by Senator Burke to refer the resolution being lost, 15 to 14. Several anti-administration senators were not agreeable to the plan to lay it over and did not vote with their group, the result being that the resolution was thrown open for debate.

The administration had no great hopes for victory on the proposal. Senator Huber frankly stated, when he opened the debate, that he realized the measure would be killed by the failure to muster a majority of 17.

The senate, through its action this morning, plastered against the administration the first real defeat. The "I and R" resolution was distinctly an administration sponsored project. The senate's takedown of the measure was an emphatic "no" to the first of several important administration platform pledges to be considered by the upper house.

Burke Leads Assault

Senator Timothy Burke, veteran soldier, who has played a prominent part in the legislative history of the state for 20 years, covering practically the entire period of the so-called "progressive movement," assailed both the measure and its supporters.

He reviewed all the important legislative changes in government and politics during his experience, then pointed out how invariably these changes were turned upon "when they had ceased to serve their purpose, and either attacked as vicious or disregarded by the very people who demanded them."

"Look at the primary election law," Senator Burke demanded. "Who was it disregarded this law last year after claiming all the honor for putting it on the statute? Not the reactionaries! It was these self-avowed progressives."

"Look at the railroad commission—and I want to say right here I voted for that law, even though I am a reactionary," this amid laughter. "Who now are viciously attacking the commission? The very people who put it there!"

Change of Heart

"I remember when they attacked the civil service law. In four years they had a change of heart. First they sponsored it and then, when it interfered with their politics, they attacked it as the most infamous measure ever written into our laws."

A question of motive was raised by Senator Bird following the reading of a passage by Senator Huber on the reported remarks of a "lobbyist in Nevada." Senator Huber explained he had no idea of making any charges against Wisconsin senators.

"I am not concerned with what this bill is aimed at, what I want to know is who it hits," Senator Bird said, taking the stand that the measure would remove the vested rights in the constitution giving personal liberty and rights to all.

The role of the resolution established a precedent. This is the first time in the history of the state in which there has been a tie vote on a constitutional amendment. Chief Clerk O. G. Munson read Deamhardt Governor George S. Comings' name, as is usually done in ties, but the senate objected as not permissible under the rules.

BY MILTON BRONNER
LONDON.—Government regulation of fashions is proposed and advocated by Viscountess Grimston.

This titled English society woman says every nation should have a national fashion commission, composed of

First, commercial designers who would suggest improvements in prevailing styles and materials.

Second, artists who would pass upon the suggestion from the esthetic point of view.

Third, women of taste who would decide what was becoming, unutilitarian and economical.

BRITISH ACTORS TURN DOWN PLAN FOR SUNDAY SHOWS

Wouldn't Get More Money for Extra Performances Shaw Tells League

LONDON.—British actors and actresses have voted down Sunday performances. A proposal to open London theatres on Sundays has just been voted down by an overwhelming majority at a meeting organized by the British Drama League. Most of the actors who voted were members of the theatrical profession.

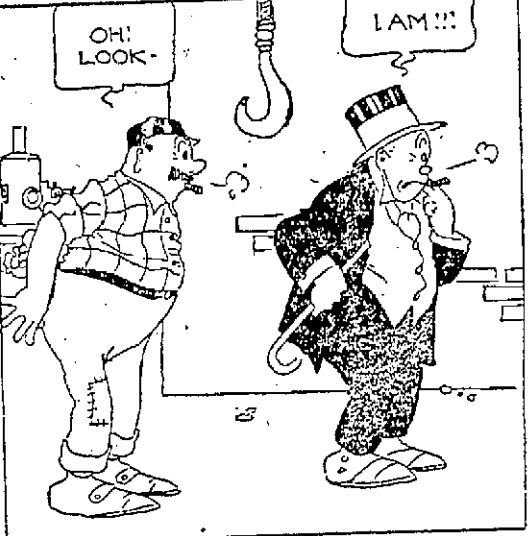

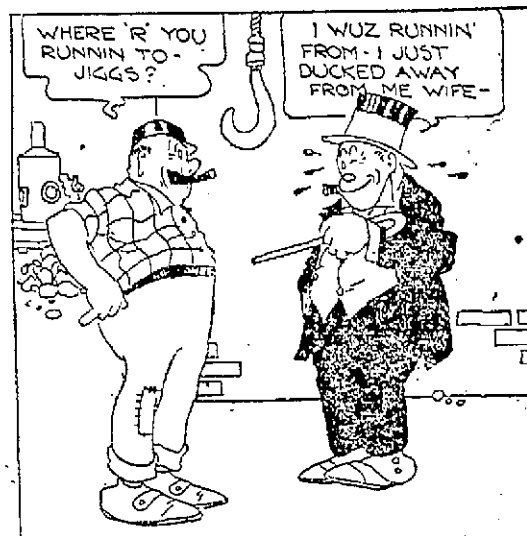

The suggestion that plays be given on Sunday was made by Arthur Housman, who said that only plays should be produced on Sundays as did not interfere with the usual weekly bill and that on Sundays should be optional, and an attempt at coercion he declared would be made illegal.

Mr. Housman added that it was a question of common sense, not of religion, that the theatre community had long ceased to be divided. He believed that Sunday should be a day of recreation, and that "if it is one thing that really does make it a day of recreation, it is the fact that it is a day when the theatre is closed."

Mr. Housman, who had quickly had the house roaring with laughter, then went on to support the proposal with extraordinary enthusiasm, in his capacity of playwright, who wanted to see the money out of his plays, and who by condemning it with even more fervor as a "friend of the theatre."

"If you give up your present Sunday holiday under the impression that you will be any different from the days in the theatre, or that you are getting any more money for your work than for six, then you are continuing to hold the same view of your political intelligence, members of the British public, as were held in the past."

Wood Preservation Growing Popular

There was more wood treated last year in this country for preservation against decay than ever before. Prior to 1917 the United States was dependent upon foreign countries for its supply of preservatives and most of it was taken from Germany and when the war cut off the supplies we were compelled to develop our own resources and this was done in a very satisfactory manner.

The Ancient Art of Paper-Making

In the matter of making and using paper we are not in line with the Chinese and other Asiatics, who not only make the finest paper in the world, but apply it to all sorts of uses, making windowpanes, fans, umbrellas, sandals and even clocks and garments of it. The art of making paper from mulberry bast is said to have been invented in China in the second century B. C. Afterwards bamboo shoots, straw, grass, and other materials were used. The manufacture spread to the adjacent countries. The Arabs learned it in Sauerland and their learned men carefully kept secret the process by which they made paper for their own use. The crusades made Europe acquainted with the art, and the first paper mill dates from the twelfth century.

The fixed star Betelgeuse has been measured by a new process and found to have a volume of 27,000,000 times that of the sun.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

The Jersey picnic at Holmen was a success. More Jersey enthusiasts came together than had ever met at a Jersey meeting in the county. Five bull calves were sold to owners of grade bulls at prices up to $75. The sale of three other calves were at privately for $50 each.

A splendid picnic dinner was enjoyed by about one hundred and fifty men, women and children interested in the "Queen Dairy Cow."

At 2 o'clock the film, "A Year in the Life of a Jersey Cow," was run through and was followed by excellent remarks by W. B. Sprecher and Professor Housman of the College of Agriculture. The speaker urged the Jersey breeders to get into the business with all their heart. Prof. Housman added that "Breed, feed and sell." This era of low prices is the best ever for the development of a breed of productive Jersey cows.

Have you made every possible effort to sell your surplus crop, stock, surplus livestock, honey, poultry, etc.? Do your neighbors know that you are something for sale? The monthly "For Sale" list will let them know this. Be sure to send your list to this office not later than the 25th of each month.

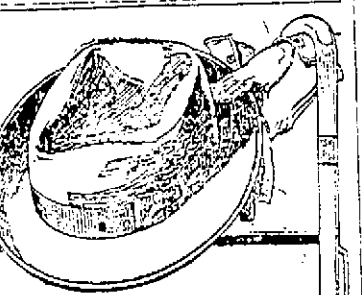

Dr. F. G. Gifford, who is extension worker in the department of horticulture, agricultural college, is out on the road of the membered farm orchard. For example: Meetings will be held there every phase of fruit growing and the farm will be discussed and you will be afforded an opportunity to ask questions. The first meeting will be held at St. Joseph Tuesday.

Saves Shoulder Trouble

When the application of a wash of tannic acid and alcohol will save the work horses from shoulder trouble, there doesn't seem much excuse for having that set back to the spring work. Dr. B. A. Beach of the veterinary science department of the college of agriculture recommends the mixture of one-fourth dram of tannic acid and four ounces of denatured alcohol combined with water until the tannic acid is dissolved. This wash should be applied to the horses' shoulders night and morning. Shake the solution well before using. Or a solution of about one teaspoon of salt to a pint of water may be used in the same way.

The advantage of either of these applications, says Dr. Beach, is that they are astringent; that is, they contract the tissues. If they are applied regularly for about the first month after the horses begin to work there will be no trouble with sore shoulders, says Dr. Beach.

SPEAKERS AT TAX HEARING SET FORTH URGENT NEED OF ECONOMY ON PART OF STATE

BUSINESS MEN AT MADISON TO OPPOSE INCOME TAX BILLS

Severson, Conant and Arnold Measures Discussed at Thursday Meeting

MADISON, Wis.—Taxation had its day before the legislature Thursday in a hearing of the joint finance committee and the assembly committee on taxation considering three major revenue raising proposals of the session. Hundreds of business men from all parts of the state crowded the assembly chamber to present arguments on the measures all aimed at increasing the income tax rates.

The Severson income surtax bill, expected to raise an additional $6,000,000, the Conant substitute amendment to the Severson bill, expected to produce an additional $10,000,000 and the Arnold straight income tax bill with possible return of $20,000,000 were under consideration.

Appeal was made for relief to the farmers and to small property owners by proponents of the suggested legislation. Often without designating which bill was favored, the speakers would make a plea for a shifting of taxation from property to incomes, according to the ability to pay.

Blaine Favors Severson Bill

Emphasis was laid on the Severson surtax proposal which was adopted by the special session of the legislature in May 1920, but vetoed by ex-Governor Philipp. This bill has the direct backing of Governor Blaine and represents the most modest of the suggested bills for change in the income tax laws.

Senator Severson, in presenting his measure, stated that it would only reach relatively few persons because of its restriction to incomes of over $5,000, and would then touch but the surface of the larger incomes because of the fact that the surtax stops at 6 per cent on all incomes of over $12,000.

He declared that not a cent would be taken from corporations that are not paying dividends and earning a clear net profit, explaining in answer to arguments that industry would leave the state if taxed too heavily, that more corporations were established in Wisconsin during the past year than in any other commonwealth in the union except Ohio.

Shift the Burden

Senator Conant in bringing his more drastic surtax proposal before the committee made a plea for a shifting of the burden of tax from the farmer to industry, according to its ability to pay. His bill, with its maximum of a 10 per cent tax on incomes of over $16,000, is much more justified, he said, than the present property tax which means confiscation of 100 per cent of the farmers' incomes. He said that farmers could not play more to the state in taxes and that additional revenue would have to be raised from incomes which it was admitted are falling at the present time.

It was brought by Senator Arnold explaining his straight income tax law, providing for a graduated tax up to 25 percent on incomes of over $250,000 that the house shortage and high rents are due to the fact that people are afraid to place their money into real estate because of the excessive property taxes.

There was equally strong support for the measures from real estate men, the Non-Partisan League, and representatives of organized labor, who emphasized what they said was the practical impossibility of increasing general property taxes, to meet the increased cost of the government for the coming two years.

Urge Economy

Opponents of the measures, running into the hundreds among representatives of industry in the state, were on hand to express their disapproval of all the measures suggested. They appealed to the legislature to save them from ruin in the present time of industrial depression, which it was said higher taxes would bring about.

The absolute need for economy was expressed by speakers on both sides. It was generally conceded, however, that with the condition of state property as it is and with the increased cost of operation made necessary by extended activity, it would be necessary to raise additional revenue during the next two years.

Business men claimed that they are unable to meet increased taxes and continue in business. They declared that the federal government on one hand was throttling them by the demands for revenue, with the state equally insistent on the other.

From the suggested measures, the joint finance committee is expected to draft a tax bill which will incorporate many of the suggestions of each, with every attempt made to treat each side justly. It is believed that the surtax proposals will have the greatest impetus of any revenue raising measure of the session, and that they stand the greatest chance of being favorably acted on.

LITTLE DANGER OF LIGHTNING IN MID-AIR

A foreign investigator has made a special study of the possibilities of lightning stroke in mid-air and as a result of observation of nearly one hundred flights, in which the airships experienced some adventures with storms, he has come to the following conclusions: There is no danger to be looked for if the machine is not in the direct line of discharge, and if it does so happen there is little danger of fire resulting from the nature of and distribution of the conducting metal portion. In thirty cases where the machines were struck directly, the writer maintains that there were no evil effects and in all cases where machines fell during storm there was no evidence of scorching of parts or melting of metal.

GREEK FORCES MEET DEFEAT AT HANDS OF TURK NATIONALISTS

Seventeen Hundred Greeks Reported Prisoners in Smyrna District

CONSTANTINOPLE.—Turkish official reports declared the Turkish nationalists east of the Smyrna district have attacked and defeated the Greeks who began an offensive on Wednesday. It is said 1,700 Greeks were taken prisoner and that the nationalists captured 20 guns. The Turks at first retired before the Greek advance, but being reinforced launched a counter offensive.

It was claimed in Greek circles here Thursday that Eski-Shehr, one of the objectives of the offensive, had been taken, but this rumor has not been confirmed. The Turks have closed the American college at Marivan in the Vilayet of Siwas, charging that the president of the institution favored the establishment of a Greek republic in western Asia Minor.

QUOTES OLD POEM IN HOUSE DEBATE ON BACHELOR TAX

MADISON, Wis.—It is seldom that a line of poetry is quoted in debates of the Wisconsin legislature, but Assemblyman F. W. Hoeft, Wausau, county, took the house by surprise on Thursday and in the midst of a debate on the bachelor tax bill recited a poem which he had learned in childhood touching upon the age old subject of taxation of bachelors. Following is the poem recited:

"I dreamed a dream in the midst of my slumbers,
And as I slept I dreamed it was coiled
Into numbers:
It seemed that a law had recently been made,
That a tax of old bachelors' Pates
should be laid.
In order to make them all willing to marry,
The tax was as large as a man could well carry.

The bachelors grumbled and said,
"Twas horrid injustice and horrid abuse,
And declared that to keep their own hearts' blood from spilling
Of such a vile tax they would pay not one shilling.

A order was sent to the town to and
To rattle his bells and his trumpet to blow,
And call out to all he might meet on his way:
Hey! Forty old bachelors sold here today.

Presently all the old maids in the town,
Each in her very best bonnet and shawl,
From forty to fifty, fair, plain, red
and pale,
Of every description all flocked to the sale.

The auctioneer, now as his labor began,
And called out aloud as he held up a man:
"How much for a bachelor, who wants to buy?"
In a twinkling every lady responded—
"I will."

In a short, at a highly extravagant price,
All of the old bachelors were sold off
in a trice,
And forty old maidens, some younger, some older,
Each fugged an old bachelor home on her shoulder."

"I learned that poem when I was a little boy," said Assemblyman Hoeft afterwards, in explaining to the people how he came to recite the poem. "Somehow or other I never thought of that poem from the time that I recited it in a little country school until yesterday when members of the legislature began to talk about bachelors. It came to me like a flash and in the midst of a debate I thought it might be well to recite it."

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema
Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even itchy, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good drug-cial club, and is said to have been both large and representative. It was declared in the resolution adopted that the Minnetonka law, which places telephone property in the state under the jurisdiction of the Railway and Warehouse commission, in practice grants a monopoly to those companies with a fixed income of not less than eight per cent.

It was the decided opinion of those present that cities should control their own telephone concerns and franchises, and that it was poor business for the legislature or courts to guarantee income on money invested in private enterprise. It was decided to request Representative C. J. Swenson of Houston county to introduce in the Minnesota legislature at once a bill covering the points set forth in the resolution adopted.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET REMAINS IN STATE TITLE RUNNING

LA CROSSE WINNER OVER RHINELANDER IN FIRST BATTLE

Defeat Northerners Thursday Night 17 to 8 and Remain in Running for Honors

VONDRASEK SCORES 15 OF LOCALS' 17 POINTS

Superior Lineup Not as Strong as 1920 Champions

The La Crosse high school basketball team remained in the running for the state championship by defeating the Rhinelander five, 17 to 8, in the second game of the evening Thursday. Rhinelander took the lead after the tip-off when Donahue rimmed a free throw. Vondrasek followed in short order with four single counters in succession before either team scored from scrimmage. The five man defense of the Meade crew held the northerners to one field goal in the first half and a pair which came near the close of the game when the green threatened a rally.

Vondrasek easily played the stellar game for La Crosse, scoring all but two of the team's points and playing a wonderful game on the floor. He caged four baskets from action and netted seven out of nine free throws. Gausch was credited with the other basket. Bohm was the diminutive Rhinelander star, being credited with the only scores for his team in the second period.

La Crosse Among Strongest

At the close of the games on the first day, Superior, La Crosse, Appleton and Menomonie appeared as the strongest contenders for the state honors. La Crosse proved itself easily superior over its smaller opponents. Although Superior won from the Madison quintet, the northern team does not present as strong a lineup as did last year's champions. However, Mancock and Nevers continue to play.

Drawings for the second series of games were scheduled for Friday morning. The lineup and summary:

La Crosse: Vondrasek, Gausch, forwards: Stokke, center: Feinberg, Zorb, guards: Rhinelander: Traugh, Bohm, forwards: Sampson, center: Schuelke, Donahue, guards: Substitutes—Harzert for Stokke; Moran for Feinberg. Goals: Vondrasek, 4; Gausch, 1; John 2; Schuelke, 1. Free throws: Vondrasek 7 out of 9; Donahue 2 out of 3; Bohm 0 out of 1; Traugh 0 out of 2.

MONTICELLO ENTERS TOURNEY IN PLACE OF PLATTEVILLE

MADISON, Wis.—Platteville, winner of the Platteville Normal section of basketball tournament, Wednesday night was disqualified as a participant in the state championship high school tourney opening here Thursday, following Racine as the second team to be thrown out of the titular meet. Monticello, which won second honors at the Platteville tourney, replaces the Lead City team.

TOURNAMENT GAMES

Waukesha, who replaced Racine in that section of the state, was victorious in their opening battle defeating Monticello 25 to 12. Menomonie, considered one of the strongest contenders from the northern section of the state, defeated Elmwood 20 to 10. Superior, last year's champions, won from the Madison quintet by a score of 13 to 8. Appleton, the strong contenders, had an easy time defeating the Nellsville crew 23 to 2.

ITEMS FROM FIELD OF SPORT

The American Legion Boxing association has been formed in California to provide central control of boxing matches conducted under the auspices of the veterans' organization.

Preliminaries in the senior boxing championship contest of the Allegheny Mountain A. A. U. will be held at Pittsburgh tonight. One hundred and fifty aspirants are entered. Finals are scheduled for Saturday night. Winners in each class will represent the district in the National A. A. U. competition at Boston next month.

The Detroit Americans are to break camp at San Antonio tonight. Every man on the team is reported in excellent condition and Manager Ty Cobb is elated by the pre-season showing.

"Cotton" Tierney, second baseman of the Pittsburgh Nationals, put his home run total up to nine yesterday at Hot Springs when he smashed out two circuit hits in a game between the first and second divisions.

Babe Adams, veteran twinner, demonstrated mid-season form when he held the regulars to a single hit in three innings.

The St. Louis Americans will meet the New York Giants at New Orleans Sunday, substituting for the New Orleans association team which plays the Giants Saturday.

St. Louis cardinals scored their first shutout of the training season yesterday by defeating Beaumont, Texas, league team, 6 to 0.

Manager Tis Speaker called the game after the fifth inning yesterday, when his first line Indians faced the Yankees. The youngsters allowed their opponents seven stolen bases in that inning.

Hanilton, out, hockey players invaded Cleveland tonight to open a two-game series with the Cleveland team.

Eller and Marquand will pitch for the Cincinnati Reds against the Dallas, Texas, leaguers at Ciso today. The Reds break camp tonight.

The Philadelphia Nationals dealt bitter defeat to the University of Florida aggregation at Gainesville yesterday, 18 to 4. They met again today, when Manager Donovan will lead the collegians a pitcher.

GLEASON'S FIRST STRING MEN EMBARK FOR OTHER QUARTERS

Leave for Dallas After One of Hottest Workouts of Fifteen Day Sojourn

WANAUAH, Tex.—Karl Gleason's first string White Sox have embarked for other quarters, leaving down the curtain on their spring training activities here. After the hottest workout staged during the fifteen-day sojourn at Jungle park, the south side regulars boarded a railcar at 2:30 for Dallas, where they took a sleeper bound for Wichita Falls to open a three game series with the Texas leaguers of that town. The pale horse sweltered as they defied this afternoon. Gleason driving every one at top speed. They had a long winded batting practice, every pitcher was put through his paces, and when the base running and fielding rehearsal was over the kid expressed himself as highly pleased with the proceedings.

Play on Small Town Diamonds

From now on the Sox will be working on all kinds of diamonds in all sorts of towns until they reach Fort Worth. According to the present program they will leave Wichita Falls Sunday night for Fort Worth Falls Sunday night. Brown to practice next Monday. Brown to practice next Monday. Brown to practice next Monday.

Kerr Takes Second Guess

Dick Kerr is slated to pitch part of the game against Wichita Falls today. The midwest southpaw thought he was ready for the start of a pennant race when he fooled the Giants last Friday, but after running around the bases on Sunday Dickie allowed as how he would keep on plugging in his training.

Doyle After Players

JOHNNY MOSTI has a chafing horse in each leg and he was limping when he came to the hotel. Gleason took personal charge of this casualty.

PAULETTE OUSTED FROM ORGANIZED BASEBALL—LANDIS

Supreme Commissioner Says Paulette Admits He Received Money from Farrar

CHICAGO, Ill.—Gene Paulette, first baseman for the Phillies, was declared ineligible to play in organized baseball by Commissioner K. M. Landis yesterday because he failed to explain to the satisfaction of the commissioner some financial dealings he had in 1919 with Elmer Farrar and Carl Zork of St. Louis.

The banishment of Paulette was announced by Judge Landis in a formal statement, which follows:

"Player Eugene A. Paulette admitted that he received money from Elmer Farrar of St. Louis as a loan which he has not repaid; that this money was given to him by Farrar some time after an interview with Farrar and another St. Louis man named Carl Zork, in which interview Paulette and Zork agreed Paulette to cooperate with them in crooked gambling on ball games, to be thrown by this player.

Names Other Players

"Subsequently Paulette wrote to Farrar asking for more money, which he did not obtain. In this letter Paulette mentions the names of two other players, whom he claimed, he could get to co-operate with him. In his statement to the commissioner Paulette denied absolutely that he had any justification whatever for thus using the names of these players, and asserted that so far as he knew they were honest men.

"Paulette denies that he has ever thrown a baseball game and asserts that during the last playing season he held himself aloof from corrupting associations; but the fact remains that he offered to betray his team and that White Sox.

OPERATION FOR O'DOWD; DOCTOR SAYS LOW BLOWS

NEW YORK.—Mike O'Dowd, former middleweight champion, underwent an operation in St. John's hospital in Long Island City for a hernia, which is alleged developed from blows received during his contest with Johnny Wilson, March 17. Dr. H. V. Scudding said that O'Dowd would be confined to the hospital for two weeks.

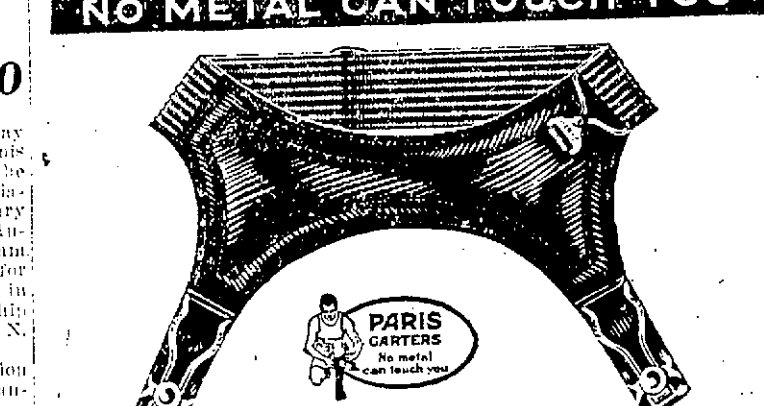

"I found bruises on the left and right side of O'Dowd's groin," said Dr. Scudding, "and the condition of the patient would indicate that it was the result of external violence. I understand O'Dowd was examined before the fight and that there were no symptoms of hernia, which is conclusive that the hernia resulted from blows struck below the belt during the bout."

TRAVELING MEN ARE ASKED TO BOYCOTT HOTEL PROFITEERS

"Jesse James Piker Compared to Landlords" Declares Letter to Commercial Travelers

OMAHA, Neb.—Letters have been sent to 600,000 commercial travelers urging them to institute a 30 day strike against hotels that charge what the organization terms exorbitant prices for room and food.

"Jesse James was a piker in his palmyest days when compared with the prices some hotels are asking," says the letter.

The letters have been sent out by the hotel committee of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers organizations and says in part:

"Traveling men all over the country have reached the conclusion that the prices charged by hotels for rooms and meals have reached the peak. The traveling fraternity has the same weapon with which to wage warfare upon the hotel proprietors and hotel corporations that the general public used in refusing to purchase apparel and shoes at prices which they thought unreasonable and out of proportion. Therefore, the hotel committee of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers organizations urges the recipient of this letter to refuse to patronize such hotels as are charging exorbitant prices for rooms and food. This letter is being sent to six hundred thousand (600,000) traveling men and each and every man must do his part for only in unison is there strength, and only by the concentrated efforts of the army of six hundred thousand of your craft can it be expected to get results.

"A thirty days' strike" along the line herein suggested will cause the hotels to soon offer more favorable terms and inducements. When you step up to a hotel register and you are told the price of a room, if you believe it is exorbitant after taking into consideration the service offered and the investment of the hotel, do not hesitate to say so and walk out. This must also be done in restaurants.

"Traveling men from different parts of the country have sent the hotel committee copies of many cards of leading hotels and by scanning the prices published thereon it makes one think that Jesse James was a piker in his palmyest days when compared with the prices some hotels are asking for accommodations. You cannot bring down these prices by submitting to them and then go out and kick. Your complaint must be made to the hotel proprietor and he must be given to understand that you and the members of your craft intend to refuse to pay them."

BIG ACTS EASTER SUNDAY

The vaudeville program for Easter Sunday at the La Crosse Theater has a number of big acts. The Arlegs open the bill with a "Perch Act" which is both novel and daring. Next Eighty and Nolan offer an eccentric dancing act. Walter Neal and his company of four offer a splendid one act comedy sketch, "The Piker." It depicts the doing of a "Circus Piker" in a small town newspaper office. A quartet that made a tremendous hit in Minneapolis billed as the Variety Four in fifty songs and fifty manner, will favor the La Crosse Theatergoers with some very good singing of popular hits. Marie Correll and company have an excellent comedy strong act. The two male members of the act furnish some very good comedy.

RIVOLI THEATER

Men and women left the Rivoli theater yesterday after the opening performance of William S. Hart's new Paramount picture, "The Testing Block," more than ever convinced that as the western bad man who later develops a streak of pure gold, there is no one comparable to Mr. Hart. In this picture he has an opportunity of displaying not only his skill as a rider, fighter and actor, but in portraying a human being, essentially.

As Sierra Hill, he "got under the skin" of the spectators, roused them to a high pitch of enthusiasm, especially when he fought half a dozen of his own "gang" single handed, and then wrought them to the point of tears when he strives so desperately to save his baby, lying at the point of death in his lonely cabin.

Mr. Hart is clever enough to surround himself with fine players and in little Eva Novak, who plays Nelly Gray, the heroine, he found a leading woman who is most appealing.

hibitors Mutual releases, has an excellent medium for her talents in her latest production, "Josselyn's Wife," produced by the R. M. Features, Inc., which is now playing at the Majestic.

The picture is a dramatization of the book by Kathleen Norris, whose fiction has made her one of the most popular and widely read novelists of the day.

The locale of the story is Long Island and its environs. Ella Latimer, a girl of refinement, who had been left penniless on her parents' death, married young Gibbs Josselyn, an artist and son of a wealthy family. Gibbs had never entered his father's house since Josselyn, Sr.'s second marriage to J. Lillian Keeler, a self-centered beauty who was mistress of the art of fascinating men.

After five years of happiness abroad, a reconciliation was effected, and Gibbs and his wife with their little boy, Tommy, went to live with the older Josselyn at their Long Island mansion. Gibbs felt a victim of the beautiful Lillian's charms, and neglected Ellen for his step-mother.

The eternal triangle under the Josselyn roof resulted in many heart-breaking moments for Ellen, whose suspicions were verified when she found Lillian and her husband at Gibbs' studio after a night on which they were both absent from home.

A quarrel ensued between Gibbs and his father, and when Josselyn, Sr., was found dead, circumstantial evidence convicted Gibbs.

VODVIL AT RIVIERA

Nalo and Rizzo, in a musical novelly, and Truett and Nelson, featured in a comedy offering, constitute the vaudeville acts at the Riviera today and Saturday. These acts, according to the advance notices are among the highest class vaudeville offerings in the middle west. Manifestations of the strange malady, amnesia, are illustrated in "Bright Skies," the feature picture at the Riviera today.

Benjamin Carusworth, the dissolute husband of a dancer, is run down by a hansom cab in New York's crowded East Side. When he recovers his mind is a blank west, "strikes" off, and becomes a millionaire. Eighteen years later his memory returns. The complications that ensue furnish a most admirable vehicle for the many talents of the newest star of the screen, Zazu Pitts.

"THE TORRENT"
"The Torrent," at the Casino today, with Eva Novak in the stellar role, is an unusual photoplay. It tells a story of two lovers alone on a Pacific island under extraordinary conditions and of the uncertainty that awaits them on their return to civilization. It was written by George Rix, whose adventure stories are based on experience.

"THE GALLOPING DEVIL"
Franklyn Farnum, one of the greatest exponents of western screen drama, will be the star attraction at the Strand today in his latest picture, "The Galloping Devil." In "The

BRITISH PREMIER HAS HARD TIME AT $20,000 PER YEAR

Pay of Lloyd George Should be Raised Declares Former Prime Minister

COMMITTEE OF PARLIAMENT INVESTIGATING SALARIES

Office an Expensive One to Keep up, Says Asquith

LONDON—The premier of Great Britain has a hard time of it trying to pay his bills on a salary of £5,000 a year and his pay ought to be raised, says the former prime minister, Herbert H. Asquith, who ought to know for he occupied that position for 11 years.

As far as known, Mr. David Lloyd George has not asked for a raise in pay but his remuneration has been the subject of an inquiry conducted by a committee of parliament which also is examining into the salaries of all the British cabinet ministers.

Mr. Asquith told the committee that the office of the premier of Great Britain is a very expensive one and his duties cannot be properly discharged by an expenditure limited to that amount. The former prime minister added that he himself was a much poorer man when he left office than when he entered it.

Mr. Asquith explained that the premier had to do a great deal of entertaining and afford hospitality to all sorts of conditions of people both at home and abroad but, under the existing arrangement, he had to defray this expense entirely at his own cost.

Even if a government hospitality fund should be provided for entertaining distinguished foreigners, Mr. Asquith was of the opinion that the premier's salary ought to be advanced.

Mr. Asquith had few kind words to say about the privilege which the premier has of occupying the official residence at 10 Downing street. "It is quite true," he said, "that you live in the house free from rent, rates and taxes, but it is a very expensive house to keep up. It is a very inconvenient house in many ways; it requires a large staff and I suspect myself that any prime minister who had experience of it as I had would, if he were offered the choice, rather not live in it at all."

The salary of the premier of Great Britain at present rate of exchange is equivalent to $19,250. This compares with a salary of $75,000 and $25,000 expenses for the president of the United States; 600,000 francs salary and a similar amount for expenses for the president of France and of 100,000 marks salary and 600,000 marks expenses for the president of Germany.

Members of the cabinet of the president of the United States receive $12,000 a year.

NEW PLAN FOR DRYS

Yonkers Fight Effective at Nickel a Head

YONKERS, N. Y.—It costs five cents per capita to K. O. John Barleycorn in Yonkers, a city of 100,000. So says William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league and originator of the plan.

Purposes of the plan: To investigate liquor law violations through an organization of public-spirited citizens.

To suppress these violations through the press by using "pittiness publicity" to bestir doleful officials.

The plan has been in effect six months. Detectives were hired and their reports, in the form of affidavits, published in Yonkers newspapers.

A committee of 1,000 members each contributes $1 annually to support the undertaking. V. Iveret Macer, wealthy citizen, has donated $5,000 a year for five years.

No committee member is permitted to act as an investigator and no evidence collected by organization detectives is given to officials for prosecution purposes.

"If we can gather the evidence, the police can, too," says Anderson. "Our purpose is to keep them in the job."

HUSBANDS DESERTED

Divorce Statistics Show That Wives Leave Most Often

CHICAGO.—Husband-deserters are more frequent than wife-deserters, says an article in the current American Journal of Sociology.

Recent statistics quoted show that 36.8 per cent of divorces granted to husbands were because the wives had run away.

Recommendations given for the lessening of cases of desertion are:

One. A federal marriage and divorce statute with concurrent state legislation.

Two. The prevention of hasty and ill-considered marriages.

Three. Proper ethical and hygienic instruction, both in the home and school.

Four. Vigorous law enforcement.

Five. The creation of "family courts."

"MOTHER" OF 11 WON'T TELL HOW SHE WORKED HOAX

ATLANTA, Ga.—"How did you manage to deceive your husband?"

"That's the question everybody would like to have Mrs. F. E. A. South answer."

She fooled her husband, a grocery employee, into believing that 11 children whom she had taken into their home in 14 years were her own. The truth came out only after she announced at 52 that she had given birth to New Year triplets.

"That's my business," said Mrs. South, when the question was put pointblank to her, "but I managed it all right."

"I don't see how she put it over on me," says the mystified South, who has ordered his wife to give up the triplets, although he has agreed to keep six other children. Two adopted babies died.

"I rather marvel at Mrs. South's success in deceiving her husband," says Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, superintendent of the maternity hospital from which Mrs. South adopted the youngsters. The triplets were not related, but were born at the same time.

Other instances

But Mrs. South is not the only instance of this kind, according to Mrs. Mitchell. Says she:

"I am pretty sure there are other cases in which a woman has taken a baby from this hospital and passed it off as her own, keeping the secret even from her husband."

"In many other cases only the husband and wife know that the baby is adopted. Their friends are never told of the circumstances of the baby's birth."

Mrs. Mitchell explains that women come to Atlanta from distant cities. They tell neighbors that they will be gone several months.

Husband goes after the wife and when they return with a new baby, the community accepts the baby as the couple's own.

"Mrs. South made a mistake," says Mrs. Mitchell, "when she gave so much publicity to the birth of the triplets."

"I would have kept her secret forever."

"However, I must keep my hospital records straight and I am obliged to tell the truth when an investigation is started."

FRECKLES

March Worst Month for This Trouble—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely.

Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.

CONTINUE RULE OF SOVIET TILL PEOPLE SUBMIT SAYS LENINE

Dictator Expresses Opinion That Peasant Resistance Will Continue Forty Years

LONDON—Nikolai Lenine, Bolshevik Premier of Russia, expects the Russian peasants to continue their resistance against the dictatorship of the proletariat for 40 years but said the communists will continue that government until they submit, according to the delegates of the Spanish Socialist Party who have just returned from Moscow.

The Spaniards went to Russia to present a statement of the conditions under which their party would affiliate with the Third Internationale. On their return they told a representative of The Times about their interview with the Bolshevik Premier.

Asked by Senor de los Rios and Senor Anguiano, who made the trip to the Soviet capital, when the Russian dictatorship would be replaced by a regime of freedom, Premier Lenine said:

"We have never spoken of liberty. We are exercising the dictatorship of the proletariat in the name of the minority because the peasant class in Russia is not yet with us. We shall continue to exercise the dictatorship until they submit. I estimate the dictatorship will last about 40 years."

Senor de los Rios and Senor Anguiano, who disagree as to the expediency of adopting the dictatorship of the proletariat, spent two months in Russia. While both were disappointed by conditions there, they were full of admiration for the possibilities of the Russian revolution.

Their report will be presented at a Spanish National Socialist Congress April 9 when the question of affiliation with Moscow will be decided.

The Spanish delegates presented the three objections of the Spanish socialists to Lenine's twenty-one points, (terms of admission to the Third Internationale) and brought back a stirring appeal from the executive committee of the Internationale to the Spanish proletariat to disregard the hesitations of their chiefs and give adherence to the Communist body.

STAFF VISITS HARDING

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Former President Taft in Washington on personal business, looked in at his old offices at the white house Friday and paid his respects to President Harding.

The former president said his visit of courtesy. His appearance revived speculation about his possible appointment to the supreme court bench, but if that subject was mentioned in his short talk with the president, it was not made known.

EUGENE V. DEBS, IMPRISONED SOCIALIST LEADER, GOES TO WASHINGTON TO PRESENT HIS CASE TO ATTORNEY GENERAL DAUGHERTY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Eugene V. Debs, now serving a prison sentence at Atlanta for violation of the espionage laws, came here on Thursday alone and conferred with Attorney General Daugherty regarding the investigation of his case ordered by President Harding.

Decision to have Debs come to Washington, the attorney general said, was reached after conference with the president. Debs not only came alone but returned alone.

No Precedent for Act

While there was no precedent for such procedure, Mr. Daugherty said, he presumed he had the authority to call Debs here under the instructions of the president.

"In connection with the investigation of the Debs case," the attorney general said, in a formal statement, "and after conference with the president and with his approval, I had Debs come here for the purpose of asking certain inquiries of him. He has returned to Atlanta."

"I have asked him to refrain from saying anything for publication or otherwise regarding the subject of the inquiries made. I am sure no well-meaning person will urge him to discuss this matter or anything that took place on his journey or during his stay here."

Presents Own Case

"Debs presented his own case to the trial court and jury. He was permitted to do so here. Debs' case as I have said before, stands alone. I could not, of course, go to him. What took place and the information I have acquired will be reported in due time only to the president and that in connection with any recommendation that may be made when the investigation is concluded. Debs came here without guard and so returned to Atlanta. Col. Guy D. Goff, assistant to the attorney general, was present during the inquiries."

Mr. Daugherty said that Debs appeared to be in good health, wore civilian clothes and looked the same as any other person at liberty.

Warden Is Silent

ATLANTA, Ga.—The warden of the Atlanta penitentiary refused this afternoon to say whether Eugene V. Debs had been away from the prison. He also declined to state whether Debs is now in the institution.

Coal Mining Easy In U. S.

Generally speaking the coal in the ground of the United States is more accessible than that in foreign fields. The average thickness of the seams is much greater, and, as a rule, they are nearer to the surface. Coal in the United States is not mined at such depths as in some parts of the Old World.

WAUKON COUNCIL REDUCES RATES FOR LIGHT AND POWER

WAUKON, Iowa.—The Waukon city council on Monday passed an ordinance prohibiting the Interstate Power company from collecting more than the council's own schedule of rates and greatly reduced rates for light and power furnished to private consumers of Waukon.

Trouble over power rates has been brewing in Waukon for several years and was greatly agitated by the interstate power company from collecting more than the council's own schedule of rates and greatly reduced rates for light and power furnished to private consumers of Waukon.

The city council issued an injunction prohibiting the company from collecting under their new rates.

Since that time the company has collected according to the old rates but gave receipts to customers for the amount paid as "received on account," awaiting further action of the council.
